

Landing Under Water I See Roots

All the things we hide in water hoping we won't see them go—(forests growing under water press against the ones we know)—

and they might have gone on growing and they might now breathe above
everything I speak of sowing (everything I try to love).

Poet Annie Finch is author of numerous books of poetry and poetics, most recently Spells: New and Selected Poems. She directs the Stonecoast MFA program. Artist Jennifer Moses is a painter living in Boston and a member of the Kingston Gallery. She is professor of art at the University of New Hampshire.

3/1/13
BROADSIDED
www.broadsidedpress.org