

Exaltation

Do bees breathe?
I don't want to look it up.
I just want to believe that you are a bee
and I am the poppy you rest in.

So many rotations of the earth
in the upside-down garden
we sleep in— tremulous faith
on the stems of our necks—
I am all buzz
inside and out.
