

سوريا حرة
يسقط بشار الأسد

Mother's Silver Teapot

we buried in the garden before we left for safe keeping Father said
until we are thirsty

again Mother laughed
and looked away
and so I went back
after the war was

over a whole day digging
in places I thought I remembered and
never found it

though our brass 27
still hung there beside
no door and past
the doorframe no house.
